

MNM's First Exhibition

We have to admit, it's not easy to organise an exhibition. For us at MNM it was a leap of faith to decide to exhibit this year at the Homes Conference & Exhibition, as an SME which only recently established an online presence and company branding. Concerns were raised on whether it will be worth our time, effort and money invested in it.

MNM's team went through several meetings before the event, ensuring that everyone knows the company and their role in it. Looking back now, these meetings served as motivational talks and team building exercises: everyone got excited about the exhibition and felt - more than ever - part of the big family that MNM is.

We got our answer immediately on the first day of the exhibition, followed by further reinforcement on the second day: our expectations have been exceeded by far!

We met many interesting people, connected with them, made friends and at the end of a busy day we were still standing there with a smile on our faces. Was it worth it? It definitely was! We re-booked before the end of the day. Thank you, Ocean Media, we are looking forward to next year's event!

Feedback from MNM team members and our visitors

"We were still smiling even after hours of standing!"
Ania Gorska, HR Manager

"The exhibition was a real eye opener; it helped me learn more about what we do as a company and gave me the confidence to present our company."
Vanita Patel, Office Administrator

"For our first exhibition it was most definitely a pleasant experience to represent MNM. "It's quality, not quantity" seemed to become one of the mottos we used most of the day."
Siobhan Blake, Office Administrator

As you can see, our two directors, Nick and Michael were ecstatic as well.

"I feel the team has accomplished a great deal during the exhibition, our staff have benefited from a massive confidence boost, along with a great sense of achievement over the two days."

Kevin Sanger, Look Ahead Administrations Manager

"It was good to be part of our first exhibition; I would love to do it again."
Eva Salorsano, Accounts Manager

"It forced me to come out of my shell. I surprised myself with all the information my brain has gathered over the past 11 years and I really enjoyed sharing with the people who visited our stand. It's taken the Homes exhibition to make me realise "I actually do know a lot about MNM and I'm an important member of the company."
Lindsay Cooper, Administration Manager

"Overall I thought the exhibition was a fantastic event that boasted MNM's stability and foot hold in the market. It was a great team building exercise that clearly encouraged colleagues to discuss not only the future of the company, but also its history. Bring on the next one!"

Chris Zacharias, Project Manager

"We had never exhibited before and had concerns about any return - this was shattered by the enjoyment, success and feedback received. We re-booked before the end of the day... See you next year!"

George Panteli, Contracts Manager
